

Thanks to its employees, CloudLab has become a global leader in innovative browser-based mass customization technology. If you would like to actively support us at our headquarters in Dortmund or our branch office in Berlin, you might be our new

Account Manager (m/w/d)

What you can expect

- Consulting: You will use your experience in customer consulting to support our existing customers independently and in a solution-oriented manner.
- Presentation: You present our software solution for print products in web demos, on-site at customer locations and at trade fairs/events.
- Sales: As an important link between customer and project management you help our customers to use the solution in the best possible way. Not only that, you also point out possible development potentials of their project and thereby accompany them to their and our success.

What you can offer

- Experience in selling software
- Knowledge of Internet technologies or, if applicable, graphics/printing
- Technical understanding and the ability to quickly learn new software
- Business fluent in German and English
- Humorous personality and enjoying working in teams

What we offer

- Fair remuneration - good work is also well paid
- Company pension plan and a whole catalog of employee discounts
- Modern equipment like PC or laptop as well as a company mobile phone
- Our modern offices in Dortmund and Berlin are centrally located with excellent transport connections
- Drinks, fruit and sweets and every Friday a buffet to start into the weekend
- We live on first-name terms and a positive atmosphere is important to us
